

2022 WINTER SEASON RegenTalks

The Biobridge Foundation is excited to present a brand new program of weekly Live talks, focused on various therapeutic areas in regenerative medicine.

Monday, February 28th, we were fortunate to have 3 specialists of gynaecological ailments. Dr. Ksenija Selih-Martinec, Dr Agnieszka Nalewczynska along with Ms Antonia Mariconda considered the social trends, causes and treatment options specifically for a good sexual health after menopause. This discussion was led by Laurence Desbordes, journalist specialized in lifestyle, fashion and health.

Ms Antonia Mariconda gave the key figures for the onset of menopause by region and ethnicity, and the increase in the number of women affected in relation to the world population.

Dr. Ksenija Selih-Martinec described the reasons and symptoms that occur at the beginning of menopause, and in the longer term. She emphasised the importance of taking the time to talk with patients to enable them to address the difficulties they may be experiencing with their sexual health. She presented a clinical evaluation of her patients treated with PRP+HA. The results speak for themselves in terms of improving the quality of life for her patients.

Dr Agnieszka Nalewczynska spoke about the safety of PRP treatment and the fact that it can be easily implemented by doctors, as a complement to hormone therapy which she said is not always sufficient. She also mentioned patients with breast cancer or after chemotherapy for whom these treatments are a godsend in the absence of possible hormone therapy.

The session is already accessible on replay on the Biobridge site
